HAPPENINGS HERE & THERE

M.L. King Day Celebration

Everyone is invited to a Martin Luther King Day Celebration for students and staff in Pueblo Joe's on Monday, Jan. 18. Pastor Jerome Perkins will recite pieces of the "I Have A Dream" Speech and give comments at 11:30 am and again at 1:00 pm. Light snacks will be provided to those with a valid PCC ID, and Pueblo Joe's will offer a meal deal of BBQ baby back ribs, cheddar mac & cheese with ham, fried okra, jalapeno cornbread and a fountain drink for $6.95. This is sponsored by the Diversity Activities Committee.

Comedy Movie Series

A new monthly Comedy Movie Series will debut at 7 pm this Wednesday, Jan 20, in Hoag Theatre. The audience in attendance will select that night's movie from 5 current comedies. This is FREE and there will be FREE delicious popcorn and snacks, too. Everyone is invited. This is sponsored by the Student Activities Board.

See CSU-Pueblo basketball

This Friday, Jan. 22, has been designated Community College Day at CSU-Pueblo, and PCC students can attend the basketball games that night against Western State College. Students with a valid PCC ID card can get one FREE game ticket and a FREE T-shirt to attend those games. Additional tickets cost $8 for reserved seats and $6 for general admission seats. Children 6 and under will be admitted free. The women's game will start at 6 pm and the men's game at approximately 8 pm. For more information about this offer, call 259-2050.

Mini-workshop series begins

Career Counselor Kathy Johnson will begin a new semester of 30-minute workshops this week with a session titled "Secrets of Student Success." It is offered 3 different days -- 12:30 pm Tuesday, 1 pm Wednesday and 1:30 pm Thursday, all in the Learning Center. These are FREE and open to everyone.

Native American music
Five-time Native American Music Award winner Bill Miller, whose honors include being named Artist and Album of the Year for "Ghostdance," will perform from 11:30 am to 1:30 pm Thursday, Jan. 21, in Pueblo Joe's.

See the Avs play in Denver

Discounted ticket packages are offered to PCC staff, students, and their families and friends to see the Colorado Avalanche hockey team in action at the Pepsi Center in Denver this Friday evening (7 pm) against the Nashville Predators. Tickets cost $31.75 each (they have a face value of $40 - $58) and include a seat in the upper level, 1 entrée (choice of hot dog, pizza, burger, salad, cheese steak, nacho deluxe or chicken tenders) and a Pepsi beverage. Order tickets online at: www.pepsicenter.com/groups/avalanche/PCCFN22. Or call Shane Koenig at 303-405-6186. $5 of each ticket supports the PCC Foundation.

GPA Dining Room opens

The GPA Dining Room, a full-service restaurant located next to Pueblo Joe's, will open for the semester this Tuesday. Weekly hours and days are 11:30 am to 1 pm Tuesday thru Friday.
