Meet Mr. Babilot!

Name: Warren Babilot

A little background:

Originally from New York City, I moved West in 1984 and joined PCC's faculty in January of 1985. In New York, I participated in many stage plays, both as actor and director, and I continued that involvement in Colorado. Altogether, I have participated in one show with a three-year run, one with a five-year run, a 13-week radio series in NY, and 38 other plays. In my lifetime, I have earned a Master's Degree, been an actor, an insurance investigator, a computer programmer, a traveling salesman, a financial analyst for Dun & Bradstreet, a school custodian, the general manager of a corporation, a cab driver, a free-lance editor, and a GED teacher at DOC..

What do you teach:

COM 115, ENG 030, 060, and 090, and THE 105 and 111.

What do you like to do when not teaching: I like spending time with my family, reading, watching classic films, shooting pool, and playing non-competitive tennis.

What do his students have to say about Mr. Babilot?

He's awesome!

Student Ambassadors have been selected

The student Ambassador program allows PCC to recognize students and to employ their talents for the good of the college. Student Ambassadors—a key part of the Office of Recruitment team—help with campus tours, recruitment activities, special events, and speaking engagements. Your Student Ambassadors for this year are:

Danielle Filler
Rebecca Rendon
Allie Characky
Jason Monett
Justin Passero

What are the clubs up to?

Sports Club

The sports club will be having a meeting on Wed., 9-15-2010, at 1pm in the LRC. They will be discussing many, many things, so if you're interested, be there!

Art Club

Art Club will be meeting on Wednesday afternoons at 4:00 in San Juan Room 231

How about a D&D Club?

A Dungeons and Dragons club has been proposed. If you would be interested in this unique club, please contact Tim Hoffman for more details.

This above all, to thine own self be true.

William Shakespeare

What is SAC up to?

This years SAC Leadership are:

Michelle Suiters, Justin Passero, Danielle Filler and Josh Webb

- ⇒ SAC will be meeting every Wednesday at 3:30pm in the LRC.
- ⇒ They will be hosting student activities at least once every month. The first is on Sept. 29, with SAC providing food. In order to participate, students need to bring in two cans of food, which will go toward the food drive benefitting Loaves and Fishes, which begins on October 1. Food will be served at 3:30pm.
- ⇒ Fall-fest is scheduled for Oct 27th from 3:30-7:00pm, it will be a Halloween theme.
