GET YOUR VEHICLE INSPECTED AT PCC

The Automotive Service Technology Skills USA Club will conduct a preventative maintenance summer clinic for all faculty, staff and students on Tuesday and Wednesday, July 5 and 6, from 8 am to 3 pm in MT-157 (auto shop). A complete and thorough vehicle inspection costs just $15, and follow-up service appointments to take care of any maintenance issues can then be scheduled, with customers paying for parts and a minimum shop equipment fee. Schedule your initial inspection appointment with Steven Herrera, Parts and Materials Handler, at 549-3216 or sjherra@student.cccs.edu. Proceeds will go toward purchasing special tools and tool boxes for the students.

~ UPCOMING HAPPENINGS AT PCC ~

■ Fire Science donation - A ceremony to thank L.N. Curtis & Sons for a major gift to our Fire Science Technology program will be held Tuesday, June 28, at 10 a.m. in GC-107, followed by a brief demonstration of the new equipment. Among the $45,000 in items donated is the latest battery-powered "Jaws of Life" extrication equipment. Everyone is invited to attend.

■ Healy helping students - The PCC and CSU-Pueblo foundations will note the generosity of the late Thomas V. Healy this week as the schools begin to establish scholarships in his name as designated in his will. The celebration is scheduled from 4 to 5 pm Wednesday, June 29 in the Jones-Healy Conference Room, 199 W. 6th, #2. Persons interested in attending should RSVP to foundation@colostate-pueblo.edu or 719-549-2380.

■ Faculty Art Show - A Faculty Art Show will begin Tuesday, June 28, and run through Aug. 28 in the San Juan gallery, and the opening reception is scheduled from 4:30 to 6:30 pm this Thursday, June 30. It will include a meet the artists segment at 5:30 pm.

■ Female Felons - Tickets are available for the "Forgotten Female Felons" presentation that will be given by local history author Sherry Johns at 2 p.m. Saturday, July 9, in PCC's Hoag Theatre. It will include several stories about a number of female inmates who have been incarcerated in Canon City prisons, bringing to life their experiences. Tickets for the show are $10 and available at the PCC Foundation office in the Davis Academic Building. They also will be available, space permitting, the day of the show. For more info, call the Foundation office at 549-3303.

■ Give Sue a fond farewell - Dean of Health Professions Sue Kochevar is retiring at the end of June, and a farewell reception for her will take place from 2-4 pm this Thursday, June 30, in the Barb Fortino Room.

■ Municipal Band concerts - The Pueblo Municipal Band's series of Sunday evening concerts in PCC's outdoor amphitheater will continue on July 3 with a 7 pm. performance. The conductor will be Mark Emery. The concerts are held each Sunday thru July 31, with the last 2 shows starting at 6:30 pm. These are free and open to everyone.

■ PCC closed July 4 - Because of the Fourth of the July holiday, all PCC campuses will be closed on Monday, July 4.
