Volume 6, Number 21

GIVE THANKS

No classes Nov. 24-27

No, you don't have the entire week off because of the Thanksgiving holiday this Thursday. But there will be no classes held Wednesday thru Saturday, Nov. 24 to 27, on all PCC campuses. So students and faculty can kick back and rejuvenate for the stretch run until the end of the fall semester.

Pick up your baskets

Students whose names were submitted to receive a Thanksgiving meal basket (which includes a gift card for a turkey) can pick them up either Monday or Tuesday, Nov. 22 or 23, in either the Associated Student Government office in the Student Center or in SC Room 240.

Offices are open this week

PCC business offices are open this week except for the Thanksgiving holiday, so this is a great chance to register for spring semester classes.

Help build our Parade of Lights float

You can be part of PCC's presence in this Saturday night's Parade of Lights. First, help is needed to assemble the float, and students will be gathering Monday, Tuesday & Wednesday (Nov. 22-24) in the automotive garage area. Stop in or contact a Student Government officer for info. Then Saturday morning, final touches will be made to the float before the parade starts at 5:30 pm in the Mesa Junction area.

Angel Tree, Toy Drive projects

You can help make the holidays nicer for both our students and needy Pueblo families by contributing new toys to one or both of these 2 projects:

Angel Tree - Disability Services is organizing this project to provide toys to PCC students for their kids. Stop at the office in AB-120 by Dec. 1 and pick up your Angel tag(s). Then deliver your bought and wrapped toys there by Dec. 6.

Stuff Santa's Sleigh - Student Government has this drive going on to benefit Pueblo families. Take toys to the ASG office or Student Center Room 240, or place in a box provided on campus.

Get tickets for this experience
