HALLOWEEN STUFF

Friday's treats

■ Costume Contest: The annual PCC bookstore Costume Contest & Celebration will take place from noon to 1:30 pm Friday in Pueblo Joe's. Judging will take place from 1:00 - 1:30 pm. Prizes will be awarded for funniest, scariest and most creative costumes in adult, children, best office group and Dia de los Muertos categories. Be creative but not obscene. There will be treats.

■ Trick or Treat Street: Bring the kids in costume to the Fortino Ballroom from 3 to 5 pm for a good time of free games, candy, face painting and other fun things. There will be hot dogs and mocktails for sale.

■ Contest winners: The sugar skulls that were created last week will be displayed in the College Center, and the Contest winners will be announced at 5 pm as part of the Dia de los Muertos celebration. Winners of the T-shirt Design Contest also will be announced in the Ballroom during this time.

■ Pumpkin carving/decorating: Our CETD folks invite all faculty and staff to enter - call 549-3267. Categories are scariest, most artistic and most creative. Judging is set for Oct. 27.

NOTABLES

■ Mini workshops: The free 30-minute workshops to be held on the half-hour this week are "Test Success" between 1 pm and 5 pm Wednesday and "How to Get 'Green' Jobs" between 10 am & noon Friday, all in AB-154R.

■ Fremont Fall Fest: If your aim is good, you can dunk your favorite administrator or student into the water tank, and also enjoy good chow and have some fun, during the Fremont Campus' Fall Fest between 3:30 and 7 pm Wednesday.
